DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Rendahl (20020084431).

Referring to claim 1, Rendahl shows a light source (figure 9 Ref 110), a light reflecting means (figure 9 Ref 112) wherein said light reflecting means has a function of retroreflecting incident light (figure 9), and a unit that detects a passing object as the object traverses the light path and interrupts reception of the reflected light by the light receiving sensor (paragraph 10-18).

Referring to claim 2, Rendahl shows a light receiving sensor and a light source disposed on an opposite side as the light reflecting means (figure 9).

Referring to claim 3, Rendahl shows an optical member that transmits a portion of light and reflects a portion of light (figure 9 Ref 114).

Referring to claim 4, Rendahl shows a light source that is a laser (figure 9 Ref 110).

Referring to claim 5, Rendahl shows a device for measuring a velocity of a passed object (figure 9), a light source (figure 9 Ref 110), a light reflecting means (figure 9 Ref 112) wherein said light reflecting means has a function of retroreflecting incident light (figure 9), and an optical member that transmits a portion of light and reflects a portion of light (figure 9 Ref 114), the light source and light receiving sensor are disposed on a side opposite to the light reflecting means with respect to the passing object (figure 9), a light path of light reflected by the light reflecting means and a light path of light incident on the light reflecting means are aligned with each other (figure 9), the optical member is disposed on the light path between the light source and the reflecting means (figure 9).

Referring to claim 6, Rendahl shows a light reflecting means has a function of retroreflecting incident light (figure 9).

Referring to claim 7, Rendahl shows a light source that is a laser (figure 9 Ref 110).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over King (5634855) in view of Rendahl (20020084431).

Referring to claims 5 and 6, King shows a device for measuring a velocity of a passed object (figure 1). Rendahl shows a device for measuring a velocity of a passed object (figure 9), a light source (figure 9 Ref 110), a light reflecting means (figure 9 Ref 112) wherein said light reflecting means has a function of retroreflecting incident light (figure 9), and an optical member that transmits a portion of light and reflects a portion of light (figure 9 Ref 114), the light source and light receiving sensor are disposed on a side opposite to the light reflecting means with respect to the passing object (figure 9), a light path of light reflected by the light reflecting means and a light path of light incident on the light reflecting means are aligned with each other (figure 9), the optical member is disposed on the light path between the light source and the reflecting means (figure 9).

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rendahl (20020084431).

Referring to claims 9 and 10, it would be obvious to use a retroreflective sheet on a plate to be the light reflecting means because this is well know and adds no new or unexpected results.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP
